Discipleship Explored	DVD + book(s)	This is a follow up to Christianity Explored (similar to Alpha) and works through Philippians. It is quite detailed and very challenging. It is meant to be a follow up to CE, but is perhaps better suited to people who have been a Christian some time and need a challenge.	Each session involves a short talk on the DVD followed by questions based on the passage looked at. We have one scribbled in leaders's manual and one unused members' book plus the DVD.	See http://www.ceministries.org/Groups/179388/Home/Courses/Discipleship_Explored/Discipleship_Explored.aspx#.Vioqq-SFPRE for more info, including a short video introduction	Mill Road groups	Barry Cooper	Alan Cossey	8

Just 10	DVD + book(s)	Ten presentations on the Ten Commandments by J John. Each presentation is an hour long or so. He does them in reverse order since it makes it easier for non-Christians to engage with the last commandments first.	We have a study guide for the leader to use (ex Gordon Kegg's). You may find it difficult to get new copies from Amazon or elsewhere these days. We also have three copies of "Ten Service Outlines for church leaders" and an "Essential Tools" DVD (haven't checked what that is). We also have one copy of "Ten - Laws of Love Set in Stone" which accompanies the course. The course is excellent, with one reservation that it did not, in our opinion, major enough of the possibility of forgiveness for disobeying these commandments. As long as the study leader compensates for that it should be fine.		Mill Road groups	J John	Alan Cossey	10

Apologetics 315	Other (give details in Notes)	Many resources by many different authors in many different formats for Christians to use in defending and advancing the Christian faith.	Recommended by Alan Cossey	www.apologetics315.com			Many different	Alan Cossey
Who wrote the gospels	Video download	Also available as mp3. Many New Testament scholars do not believe that Matthew, Mark, Luke and John authored the gospels which traditionally bear their name. Tim McGrew tells us the evidence from the early church and points out that if these were anything other than bible books, no-one would be arguing against such authorship.	Easy to understand. Nothing fancy. Recommended by Alan Cossey.				Professor Tim McGrew	Alan Cossey	1
Defenders classes	Video (only)	Professor Craig leads a class each Sunday at Johnson Ferry Baptist Church looking at all the fundamental teachings of the Christian faith. This is as deep as you can get. He is now on series 3.	Also available as mp3 downloads. Recommended by Alan Cossey.	http://www.reasonablefaith.org/defenders-3-podcast/s4	Other (please record in Notes)		William Lane Craig	Alan Cossey
The Reliability of the New Testament texts	Video (only)	35 minute video about the NT texts. Have we got now what they had then? Dan Wallace speaks in a very engaging way.	There are other Dan Wallace videos and audio files around, but this is a good example. Recommended by Alan Cossey.	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6lEmch2OAhs			Dan Wallace	Alan Cossey	1
New Evidences the Gospels were Based on Eyewitness Accounts	Video (only)	Williams looks at how the gospels and Acts use names and demonstrates that the authors knew details that were not otherwise been known before 2003.	Much easier to listen to than this sounds. The Mill Road men's group watched it April 2016 and found it really useful.  Recommended by Alan Cossey and Tom Cross.	https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r5Yt1pBmM8			Peter J. Williams	Alan Cossey	1
